Re: Arts and Sciences Program Proposals from the Arts and Humanities Division

Arts and Sciences is pleased to submit the following programs from the Arts and Humanities Division to the Office of Academic Affairs for conversion from quarters to semesters. The programs have been approved by the faculty members and chair of the originating unit, and reviewed and approved by the divisional advisory panel, a subcommittee of the ASC Committee on Curriculum and Instruction (CCI), and the full CCI. The vote for approval of all programs at the full CCI was unanimous.

Arts and Sciences General Education (GE) Program: The GE program for untagged B.A. and B.S. degrees in Arts and Sciences was approved by the Council on Academic Affairs on May 26, 2010, after receiving approval from the Arts and Sciences Faculty Senate. All the programs presented here follow the approved GE program.

College of Arts and Sciences Transition Policy: The College of Arts and Sciences is committed to the principles outlined in the university’s Pledge to Undergraduate Students. Each unit has a plan on how best to assist its majors and minors through the transition. And the Arts and Sciences Academic Advising Services will advise students on how to transition their GE program. Dual advising is the existing process used in Arts and Sciences and will continue under semesters.

Explain any change in credit hours if the difference is more than 4 semester credit hours between the values listed in columns B and C for any row in the above table.

Old major had a “hidden” requirement of Ger 201 in addition to Ger 101-104. Ger 201, in its converted form 2101, is now part of the major.

Program Learning Goals

Note: these are required for all undergraduate degree programs and majors now, and will be required for all graduate and professional degree programs in 2012. Nonetheless, all programs are encouraged to complete these now.

Program Learning Goals

- Students demonstrate linguistic proficiency in German at the B2 or C1 level of CEFR, they reflect on their own language and gain translation skills.
- Students demonstrate knowledge of German Linguistics, German History, German Cultural Achievements, and the current German-speaking world.
- Students demonstrate the ability to undertake critical reading and analysis of texts, to interpret cultural products and events within relevant contexts, and to express ideas and perspectives clearly, cogently and persuasively.
- Students demonstrate an understanding of differences in verbal and nonverbal communication, recognize cultural differences and similarities, and gain perspective on their own world view and cultural values.
- Students demonstrate the ability to use sophisticated tools for research and knowledge acquisition, and to evaluate the validity of resources available in the media landscape.
- Students demonstrate the ability to use strategies to acquire, maintain and further develop knowledge and skills, and to collaborate effectively and respectfully.
Assessment

Assessment plan includes student learning goals, how those goals are evaluated, and how the information collected is used to improve student learning. An assessment plan is required for undergraduate majors and degrees. Graduate and professional degree programs are encouraged to complete this now, but will not be required to do so until 2012.

Is this a degree program (undergraduate, graduate, or professional) or major proposal? Yes

Does the degree program or major have an assessment plan on file with the university Office of Academic Affairs? Yes

Summarize how the program's current quarter-based assessment practices will be modified, if necessary, to fit the semester calendar.

No modifications will be necessary.

Program Specializations/Sub-Plans

If you do not specify a program specialization/sub-plan it will be assumed you are submitting this program for all program specializations/sub-plans.

Pre-Major

Does this Program have a Pre-Major? No

Professor Larry Krissek
Chair, Arts and Sciences CCI
Re: Programs in Germanic Languages and Literature

Dear Professor Krissek:

The CCI’s Arts and Humanities 2 subcommittee met on March 30, 2011, and reviewed the semester conversion plans for three programs submitted by the Department of Germanic Languages and Literature:

- German BA
- German minor
- Scandinavian minor

The German minor is a direct conversion from the quarter version. The Scandinavian minor is re-envisioned only in that one course (Scan 3350) was added to the core requirements. It is otherwise a direct conversion. The German BA has been re-envisioned in that it no longer has two tracks and has a slightly increased hours requirement. All three programs were approved unanimously by the committee, pending changes, for forwarding to the full CCI.

I have looked over the revised programs and noticed a few residual errors and/or points needing clarification that may need attention at the CCI level as follows:

German BA

- The track-change corrections on pages 8-11 of the pdf need to be removed.

- List of semester courses on pages 12 and 13:
  - GEC should be replaced by GE.
  - Courses 2650 and 3400 appear to be missing.

- On the second page of the semester advising sheet, electives d, e, and f, courses 4202, 4203, and 3191, should presumably be 4602, 4603, and 4191, respectively, as in the list of semester courses.

- Page 23 of the pdf, titled “German Minor Transition Plan,” should be removed.

- Curriculum map:
  - The committee suggests relabeling “Advanced Required Courses” as “Advanced Required/Elective Courses” for clarity
  - Under this category, the following courses, which appear in the list of semester courses and apparently can be taken in the major, are not shown: 3252, 3253, 3351, 3600, 3602, 3603, 3999H, 4203, 4252, 4998/H, 4999/H.
The committee suggests relabeling “Advanced Required Courses in English” as “Advanced Required/Elective Courses in English” and combining this category with the next one.

German Minor

- References to GEC on the semester advising sheet should be changed to GE.

- The advising sheet for quarters (as shown at http://ascnet.osu.edu/global/shared/major_minors/German%20Minor%20Update%208-30-10B.pdf) needs to be included.

Scandinavian Minor

- The program learning goals can be deleted from the PACER page.

Sincerely,

Wm. Mitchell Masters

Faculty Chair, Committee on Curriculum and Instruction
College of Arts and Sciences

Dear Larry,

The Department of Germanic Languages and Literatures has completed its proposal for semester versions of its undergraduate programs:

Undergraduate Major:
BA in German

Minor Programs:
Minor in German
Minor in Scandinavian
Minor in Yiddish

The Arts and Humanities Disciplinary Advisory Panel for Curriculum within the College of Arts and Sciences reviewed and unanimously approved the undergraduate programs from Germanic Languages and Literatures during its February 4, 2011 meeting. The BA in German has an assessment plan on file with OAA, verified October 15, 2010.

Most specifically, I have highlighted the important changes for each program below:

Bachelor of Arts in German: The BA in German was last revised and approved by CAA previous to 2006. The Department took this opportunity to make changes in the undergraduate major and to implement suggestions from its recent 2009 program review. The undergraduate BA is changing with re-envisioned status. The quarter-based degree is a minimum of 44 credit hours with 25 credit hours in pre-requisites, and its semester-based version is 33 credit hours with 12 credit hours of pre-requisites. The department has deleted the previous two track option, and it is offering only one track. The department has provided a detailed transition plan for students beginning the pre-requisite course-work in German and for those in the major course-work.

Also note that the Learning Goals in PACER are shortened in order to accommodate the character limit in the computer program. The full Germanic learning goals are found within the body of the proposal.

Minor Programs:
- Minor in German: The Minor in German was last updated in September 2009. The quarter-based program is 25 credit hours with 20 credit hours of pre-requisites. The
A semester-based program is 15 credit hours beyond 1103, with twelve credit hours of pre-requisites (1101-1103). The minor is a course-to-course translation: 5 courses required in the minor course work in quarters, and still 5 courses required in the minor on semesters. The quarter based ASC Minor Advising Sheet highlighted different paths in the minor such as Language or Literature or a combined Language and Literature track. For semesters, the minor requires instead two core courses, and then provides a selection of three courses from a full list. Note: only one course taught in English may be taken to fulfill one of those courses, therefore the Minor in German fulfills the rule of 6 credit hours at the 3000-level or above or courses at the 2000-level taught in the language.

- Minor in Scandinavian: The Minor in Scandinavian was last updated in 1984. The quarter-based program is 20 credit hours with 20 credit hours of pre-requisites. The semester-based program is 15 credit hours beyond 1103, with twelve credit hours of pre-requisites (1101-1103). The minor is a course-to-course translation: 5 courses required in the minor course work in quarters, and still 5 courses required in the minor on semesters. However it is listed as re-envisioned since two new courses are added to the minor. The two quarter-based core requirements remain the same and are increased by one course in the semester version. The electives available for student-choice include a new course. Note: The minor core is taught in the language, therefore it fulfills the ASC rule of 6 credit hours at the 3000-level or above or courses at the 2000-level taught in the language.

- Minor in Yiddish: The Minor in Yiddish was last updated before 2006. The quarter-based program is 20 credit hours with 20 credit hours of pre-requisites. The semester-based program is 15 credit hours beyond 1103, with twelve credit hours of pre-requisites (1101-1103). The minor is a course-to-course translation: 5 courses required in the minor course work in quarters, and still 5 courses required in the minor on semesters. Note: The minor core is taught in the language, therefore it fulfills the ASC rule of 6 credit hours at the 3000-level or above or courses at the 2000-level taught in the language.

We are sending these undergraduate programs forward for review and approval in the next stage of curricular review at the Arts and Sciences Committee on Curriculum and Instruction.

The courses that are specific to all of the programs are listed under multiple Book 3 Listings of Scandinavian, Swedish, German, Yiddish. The courses have been advanced in PACER. All programs from Germanic Languages and Literatures have the approval of Arts and Humanities. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to call or email me at 292-5727 or williams.1415@osu.edu.

Thank you for your consideration of these proposals,

Re: Semester Conversion

The Department of Germanic Languages and Literatures (GLL) is pleased to present the following revisions and suggested implementation for conversion to the semester calendar of our degree granting programs. Our Department houses three separate programs; changes within these programs can be summarized as follows (cf. attached documentation):

A. German
   1. Masters Degree and PhD in German: re-envisioned with significant changes.
   2. Undergraduate Major in German: re-envisioned with significant changes.
   3. Undergraduate Minor in German: converted with minimal changes.

B. Yiddish and Ashkenazic Studies
   1. Masters Degree and PhD in Yiddish and Ashkenazic Studies: re-envisioned with significant changes; these degrees are sub-specializations of the Masters Degree and PhD in Germanic Languages and Literatures.
   2. Undergraduate Yiddish minor: converted with minimal changes.

C. Scandinavian Studies
   1. Undergraduate minor: re-envisioned with significant changes.

GLL took advantage of a recent program review in November 2009 to assess and as a result restructure its programs and curriculum. The Department conducted a self-study which was followed by an external evaluator review. Recommendations made by the external evaluators and points gleaned as a result of our own assessment were discussed and integrated into our conversion plans. The conversion tasks were divided among four departmental committees: 1) the German Undergraduate Studies Committee; 2) the German Graduate Advisory Committee with later input from the German Graduate Committee; 3) the Scandinavian Studies Committee; and 4) the Yiddish and Ashkenazic Studies Committee. In order to streamline the process, we focused on the following general principles: curricular coherence and achievement of learning goals, flexibility for students and faculty, adherence to a 2/3 reduction, and alignment with national trends in the respective fields. Major changes to the German graduate and undergraduate programs were discussed during several departmental council meetings and accepted by the voting members, consisting of the entire faculty, student representatives and a representative of lecturers in autumn 2010. The Scandinavian minor was re-envisioned by adding one course to the core requirements (Scan 3350). Changes were presented to the faculty in January 2011; the relatively minor changes to the YASP program were presented to the faculty at our February 2011 departmental council meeting.

As chair of the Department, I can attest to the rigor with which the programmatic changes were undertaken and I approve all of the proposed changes to our undergraduate and graduate programs. Not only will the proposed changes better meet our students’ needs, but they will also allow for more flexible scheduling and foster inter- and trans-disciplinary opportunities, e.g., make our courses more accessible to students from other programs, allow our students to undertake coursework in other programs, and facilitate team teaching.

All of the programs outlined above will continue after conversion to semesters has taken place. None of our programs are being withdrawn.

Sincerely,

Anna A. Grotans
Associate Professor of German and Chair
GLL German Undergraduate Program Rationale

Program Goals

The goal of the Undergraduate Major Program in German in the Department of Germanic Languages and Literatures (GLL) at the Ohio State University is to help students develop the essential competencies and awareness that prepare them to succeed as global citizens. As they develop increasingly sophisticated communication skills and linguistic competency in German, they also acquire greater depth and breadth of knowledge about the history, society and culture of the German-speaking world and refine their analytical and critical thinking skills. Through this, and by facilitating their interaction with the German-speaking world, we prepare them for engagement with an increasingly diverse and fast-changing world and a rich life of continued learning.

Specific Learning Goals

• Linguistic Proficiency [communicative language competencies]
  Students demonstrate the ability
  - to attain linguistic proficiency at the B1, B2 or C1 level of the Common European Reference Framework for Language (CEFR)
  - to reflect on their own native language
  - to undertake translation from their native language into German and vice versa

• Knowledge [declarative knowledge/savoir]
  Students demonstrate knowledge in the following domains:
  - Linguistics (linguistic structure, historical development of the German language, sociolinguistics: knowledge/familiarity with the diversity of the German language; recognition and use of appropriate varieties of German)
  - History (sociocultural knowledge: major historical periods, major figures, major events, dates, chronologies, major theories of German history)
  - Cultural Achievements (sociocultural knowledge: major literary works, authors, movements and periods, basic knowledge of literary and/or cultural theory film and photography, music, visual and performing arts, German contributions to philosophy and intellectual history, public art, architecture, monuments)
  - German-speaking world (knowledge of the world, socio-cultural knowledge, German language and culture in a global context: political system, geography, social system, economic issues, business culture, media, contemporary culture and perspectives, feuilleton debates of public sphere)

• Critical Thinking and Communication Skills in German and in English
  Students demonstrate the ability
  - to undertake critical reading and analysis of texts
  - to interpret cultural products and events within relevant contexts
  - to express ideas and perspectives clearly, cogently and persuasively in writing
  - to present ideas clearly, cogently and persuasively in formal and informal situations orally
• Intercultural Awareness and Skills [skills and know-how/savoir-faire, both practical skills and know-how and intercultural skills;]
Students demonstrate the ability
- to understand differences in verbal and nonverbal communication
- to recognize cultural differences and similarities
- to reflect upon their own worldview and cultural values in relation to the other culture’s history, values, politics and culture
- to recognize and appreciate the complexity of another culture

• Lifelong Learning [ability to learn/savoir-apprendre]
Students demonstrate the ability
- to use sophisticated tools for research and knowledge acquisition
- to evaluate the validity of resources available in the media landscape
- to initiate and maintain contact with members of other cultures
- to be aware of themselves as learners
- to use strategies to acquire, maintain and further develop knowledge and skills
- to collaborate effectively and respectfully

Rationale for Changes
German majors currently have a choice between a focus on German Literature and Culture or German Language and Culture, with each major track consisting of a minimum of 46 (quarter) credit hours above the 201-level. The current structure includes a required core, focus electives for the particular track and free electives. With the exception of one course elective allowed from courses taught in English, the major courses are taught in German.

The establishment of the two-track major system over ten years ago resulted in an overall increase in the number of majors, the majority of whom enroll in the Language and Culture Track. The Literature and Culture track has attracted disproportionately fewer students than the Language and Culture major track, and as a result, the traditional course offerings in literature (23x series, 42x series) do not always enroll well, even though one literature course is required as an elective in the Language and Culture track. Because of the imbalance in the number of majors in the Literature track, we have decided to delete the two tracks.

The Department of Germanic Languages and Literatures viewed semester conversion as an opportunity to re-envision our major. Our new proposed major was developed using information gleaned and triangulated from a variety of sources during the Department’s self study (2009-2010). We conducted focus groups with existing majors, and we analyzed course enrollment demographics and patterns, reports from our undergraduate advisors, student comments on why they study German, as well as data from the past several years of exit surveys from graduating seniors. In addition, we studied the structure of the German programs offered at several leading institutions and we consulted the goals statements and standards from the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages as well as those from the Council of Europe’s Common European Framework of Reference for Languages. The new major program was drafted by the Undergraduate Studies Committee during the Winter and Spring of 2010 and vetted by the Department in Spring 2010.
The re-envisioned major places special emphasis on increasing the rigor of the program, the variety of the content, and the integration of language skill development with content knowledge. In doing so, we have considered carefully the articulation of the undergraduate major/minor offerings with the language requirement sequence, with study abroad, as well as with the graduate program.

In addition to required foundational work aimed at acquiring linguistic and cultural proficiency as well as basic content knowledge, students will be able to choose from rotating topic courses on two levels in each of three required core areas: 1) Linguistics/German for the Professions, 2) Cultural Studies, Social and Intellectual History, and 3) Topics in Literature, Art and Film.

In order to assure depth of content knowledge for all majors, we have also added two required courses taught in English, one introductory and one advanced, in the form of a senior seminar.

The required core of the re-envisioned major is divided into a basic level and an advanced level. At the basic level, the courses 2101, 2102, 3101 and 2350 (12 semester credits) replace the 20 credit-hour sequence (German 201-301-401-463) required by both tracks of the current major and also removes what was for both tracks in the old major a hidden pre-requisite (German 201). The old major allowed 10 credits of coursework in courses taught in English, 5 of these in a German-specific course. The new program allows 9 units of courses taught in English, 6 of these in German-specific courses, one at the beginning and one at the advanced level.

With a few exceptions, the rotating topics courses will replace content courses that are currently in the book 3 listing.

The changes made to the German major/minor curriculum better reflect the interests and needs of our students, many of whom are double majors in German and another field (e.g., International Studies, Business, Engineering, Biological Sciences, etc.) or who minor in German in combination with another field. The rotating topic structure within the three core areas assures curricular balance while at the same time allowing faculty to draw upon their expertise and to explore current trends, events and issues. Rotating topic courses also allow for more flexibility in scheduling than we currently have and will result in fewer impediments for students as they progress through the curriculum. The new unified major should also make advising easier and more effective. We anticipate that the senior seminar in English will attract students from other disciplines for a rigorous study of specific German-related topics (e.g., intellectual history, film, etc.)

German Major

Transition Plan

GLL is committed to supporting its students' academic progress and will ensure that the shift from quarters to semesters does not disrupt their progress toward a German major. Students will be asked to work out a clear plan of study with their major advisor in GLL. GLL, in turn, will maintain flexibility in working with students to devise a meaningful and feasible plan of study.

The following guidelines will be used in advising students during the transition to semesters.

- Students declaring a major autumn 2010-spring 2011 must follow the guidelines of the old major.
- Students declaring a major in autumn 2011 can still choose old major or new major. Ger 201 does not count toward old major. Beginning autumn 2012 they will pick and choose from new semester major courses. Additional transition courses are not needed.
- Beginning winter 2012, students will be advised according to new major sheets. At this point Ger 201 will count toward major, IF following new guidelines.

Courses taken before au 2012 will be converted to equivalent semester courses. Major courses in the quarter system will be counted as semester course equivalents as follows:

- Ger 201 = Ger 2101
- Ger 203 = Ger 2194 (2 units)
- Ger 301 = Ger 2102
- Ger 401 = Ger 3101
- Ger 3x = Ger 3200
- Ger 42x = Ger 3200
- Ger 409 = Ger 4194 (2 units)
- Ger 550 = Ger 3300
- Ger 463 = Ger 3400
- Ger 630 = Ger 360x or 460x seminar
- Ger 640 = 4200, 4300 or 4400.

Possible autumn 2012 core requirement placements:
- a) If a student had Ger 104 in spring 2012, in autumn 2012 she will enroll in Ger 2101.
- b) If a student had Ger 201 in spring 2012, in autumn 2012 she will enroll in Ger 2102 (Ger 201 will be counted as the equivalent of 2101).
- c) If a student had Ger 301, she will enroll in Ger 3101 (301= 2102).
- d) If a student had Ger 401, she will enroll in a Ger 3x0x or 4x00 seminar (Ger 401= 3101).
Sample Major Program Scenarios

Sally Smith declared a German major au 2010 and will complete the old major requirements. Coming into autumn 2012 she has completed Ger 201, 301, 401, 463, 550 (=20 quarter credits; 201 does not count toward the old major). Normally she would need 5-6 additional courses in order to fulfill the 46 credits needed. She will be required to complete 6 additional courses. She will choose 4-6 courses from 3x0x and 4x0x seminars; she would be allowed to take up to 2 classes in courses taught in English (according to the old major guidelines).

Joe Schmidt declares a German major au 2011; he takes Ger 201, 301, 401 in 2011/12 = the equivalent of 9 units; he will still need 24 units or 8 courses. For him Ger 201 will count toward the major. He will be advised according to the new major guidelines.

Heidi Long declares a German major in au 2011; she has already completed Ger 201, 301, 401, 463, and 550 = the equivalent of 15 units (201 counts toward her major). Heidi would still need to complete 6 courses. She will be advised according to the new major guidelines.
